WOULD-BE DUELLIST.

One of Johnny Bush's Editors Challenges a Brother of the Quill.

A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Francis G. Harden for violation of Chap. 8, Sec. 2, of the Penal Code in issuing a challenge to John G. M. Sheldon, editor of the Honolulu, to fight a duel. Officer A. McGurn, armed with the legal document, went to the office of Hon. J. E. Bush in the afternoon, and asked that gentleman if F. G. Harden was there. Mr. Bush answered in the affirmative. It seems, however, that Harden was listening in the next room, and as soon as he heard his name he jumped out of the window, leaving his hat. He turned to McGurn, put his fingers to his nose and ran through a lane out on King street, leaving the officer nowhere.
Another officer saw Harden running and, thinking he was a thief, gave chase. Harden led by several yards till near the old kerosene warehouse, where there was a wide ditch, over which he couldn't leap. He turned like a rat at bay and made several passes at the policeman, when the cop shot out a right hander from the shoulder, landing on Harden's eye, where it raised a dark decoration. He wasn't satisfied, but went for the officer again, and had it not been for the arrival of McGurn and others the battle might have waged for some time longer. The desperate Balmaceda was nabbed and taken to the Station where his bail was fixed at $1000.

This morning he asked for paper and pencil and wrote one note to the Marshal and another to Mrs. J. E. Bush. The latter missive, it is said, contained such abusive language that it was not forwarded, but handed to the Station Clerk Hardy. Harden will be tried in the Police Court to-morrow morning.

NORTH HILO.

Nawahi Elected by a Substantial Majority.

Jos. Nawahi, who resigned his seat as Representative for North Hilo to enter the Cabinet and ran again on that particular Cabinet's defeat, has been elected again. Returns from the last precinct are not in, but its 60 votes cannot change the result and will probably go largely for the top man. The other precincts voted as follows:

| | |
|------------------|---------|
| Nawahi, Akiua. | |
| 2d precinct..... | 73 23 |
| 3d | 226 189 |

THE LEGISLATURE.

152ND DAY.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 21, 1922.

Morning Session.

The Assembly convened for prayer at 9 o'clock, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

President Walker displayed a highly artistically engrossed document and which he stated had been placed on his desk yesterday. The purport of the document was to extend an invitation to the officers and members of the Assembly to be present at the Jubilee services at Kawaiahao Church on Nov. 28, 1893, and was signed by Messrs. E. K. Liliakalani and D. Naone, as a committee of invitation. The document was dated Nov. 24th and had taken until Dec. 20th to reach its destination.

In consonance with the rules, Bill 175, the vetoed bill, relating to the regulating the hours of labor of certain Government employees, was on motion laid upon the table.

The Order of the Day being moved and unfinished business coming up, consideration of Section 9 of the Bill to regulate the importation and sale of opium resumed.

Section 9. Opium imported to be placed in bond. Passed.

Section 10. Collector-General and several Collectors at their respective ports to place stamps on half lb. (5 taels) boxes $1.50, and on more than "2 lb. and not more than 1 lb. $3, each additional" 2 lb. an additional stamp of $1.50. Passed.

Section 11. Any Customs officer or person entrusted with the duty of affixing stamps to boxes who fails to do so to be punished. Passed.

Section 12. Counterfeiting of stamps to be punished. Passed.

Section 13. Forgery of name of any officer of the Government to stamps, to be punished. Passed.

Section 14. Any duplicate use of stamps or containers to be punished. Passed.

Section 15. Regarding licenses. Provides for 9 licenses on the Island of Oahu, at a gross price of $25,500; Kauai, 3 licenses, $7500; Maui, Molokai and Lanai, 6 licenses, $16,000; Hawaii, 6 licenses, $18,000—a gross total of $87,000.

Rep. Ashford said that the idea of several licenses had been very carefully considered. He did not think that one license issued in Honolulu would supply the demand for all the islands. Wherever opium is sold under this law it must be in a regularly licensed place. It makes no difference where the opium enters so long as it passes through the Custom House. He did not believe that it was right to license a crime to obtain a revenue out of it, but as the voice of the majority was that something might be accomplished toward curbing this vice by licensing and incidentally getting a revenue therefrom, he believed it sound to try the experiment. As far as one license was concerned he did not favor that proposition; he believed that a better result would be obtained by dividing the licenses up as proposed in the amended section. It was impossible to regulate the traffic outside of Honolulu.

Noble Peterson said that in all probability not one-half of the licenses proposed would be taken up. He instanced Waianae, and that license at $1000 would not be bought. All experience has shown, besides, that all of the best licenses, the plums, would be bought up by one ring. He considered that the object sought could be better accomplished if licenses were issued for each island and not sub-divided into districts.

Rep. Kaunamano favored the offering of licenses in each district. If there was only a central license, then there would be a lot of vendors of the drug all over the islands who would claim that they were agents of the chief licensee. He related an instance of the kind that happened in his district (Hamakua) under the old license, where a man pretended he was an agent, but on inquiry it was found that he was not and had over 400 unstamped tins of opium in his possession. The opium was seized by the deputy sheriff there and he sold it and pocketed the money. One licensee would simply fill the country with tramp vendors of opium just like the gipsy peddlers of jewelry at present.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox favored the amendment as presented in the bill. The advocacy of one license, simply, is only intended to benefit one set. If there is but one license in Honolulu then the Cabinet might be bribed. He did not say the present Cabinet but nobody could tell how long this Cabinet would stay in. It was well known that even now there was every effort being made to undermine this Cabinet. Those who are at all posted know that the opium ring desire much to have one of their number in the Cabinet. During the last two days he had been shown lists or slates of new Cabinets, and on each of those was the name of a man who is engaged in opium smuggling and who is known to be the friend of opium smugglers. The question before us is to have one license or several; he hoped that the question would be settled quickly, as he desired to have the work ended by New Year's. That could be accomplished, he thought, were it not for the action of those whose interests are with the opium rings and are endeavoring to obtain a Cabinet in their interests. He considered that everyone had made up their mind how to vote on this question and action should be immediate. If it was intended to fritter away time, however, in the hope of putting this Cabinet out, then the procrastinators would lose their labors for the reason that this Cabinet will not go out until the member from Waialua says so. (Applause and laughter.)

Noble Marsden believed in the issuance of licenses. He favored the designating of each place in each district, so that the police can control the sale.
